"Transcontinental Bus" Stars Robert Montgomery

Robert Montgomery will star in "Transcontinental Bus", new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production based on an original story by Ferdinand Reyre and Frank Wead.

Montgomery's last role, completed before he left the coast for his present trip to New York, was in "Night Flight". He also appeared recently in "Another Language", co-starring with Helen Hayes.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is laying plans for the roadshowing of "Dinner At Eight", on the same basis as "Grand Hotel", that is, with two a day bookings, all over the U. S. and Canada, at a minimum top of $1.00.

The second Majestic release of the 1933-34 season, "The Sin of Nora Moran" with Zita Johann, Alan Dinehart, Paul Cavanagh and John Miljan has been completed.

John M. Stahl to Direct Universal "Only Yesteraay"

Three more players have been engaged for "Only Yesterday", John M. Stahl's Universal production now in its 11th week of filming, with Margaret Sullivan, John Boles, Billie Burke, and Reginald Denny featured. The new cast additions are Huntley Gordon, Lita Chevret, and Leo White, who will take their places alongside the 75 other well known players already enrolled on the cast sheet. Besides its unprecedented list of speaking parts, more than 4,000 extras are taking part in the picture.

"Skeets" Gallagher, one of the screen's top-notch comedians, has been signed to a three-picture contract by Merian C. Cooper, executive producer in charge of all RKO Radio production.

Marion Davis M-G-M Latest Is "Going Hollywood"

"Going Hollywood" is announced as the final title for Marion Davies's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle. Arthur Freed and Nacio Herb Brown, authors of "The Pagan Love Song" and "Broadway Melody" have been engaged to do the special musical score for this production, which Raoul Walsh will direct. Albertina Rasch will stage the dance numbers for "Going Hollywood".

"I Loved a Woman"

"I Loved a Woman," Edward G. Robinson's latest First National Picture, with Kay Francis playing opposite, had its pre-release world premiere at the Warner Theatre in Milwaukee, September 14th. "I Loved a Woman" will be nationally exhibited September 23rd.
